CATALONIA (PROVINCE).*Insurrection and French Occupation, 1641-1652.

During the insurrection and occupancy by the French troops a series of copper coins was issued by cities and towns in the Province of Catalonia. A majority of the coins display the effigy and titles of the French Kings, Louis XIII and Louis XIV, on one side and the arms of the town or province, usually a diamond shaped shield upon the cross of St. Eulalie, on the reverse. The coins are rudely struck, but they compare favorably with other Spanish copper coins of that period. The following towns are known to have issued coins.

NEW PAPER MONEY WELCOMED IN FRANCE.

Really substantial greenbacks, fresh and crinkly, may make their appearance in France before the end of this year. Labeled in francs, of course, instead of dollars, they will be a part of the Poincare Government's reform of the French monetary system. For several months the experts of the French mint have been studying the American system of coinage. Their principal objection to the style of American bills has been that it does not lend itself sufficiently to artistic treatment.

Recent calculations, however, have shown that the life of the present flimsy French notes is less than five years, and the economy of heavier silk-fibre parchment is being understood. Prices have been asked from firms in the United States and Germany, and a technical commission for working out the details of the reform is to be appointed within a few weeks. The change will be a welcome one for tourists, as it will carry with it the abolishing of the excessively large 500 and 1,000-franc notes, which were instituted when those in the rural districts, unable in most cases to read or write, gauged a bank note by its size.

COINAGE FOR JUNE, 1928.

Following is the number of pieces of the different denominations coined at the mints of the United States during June, 1928, as officially reported by the Bureau of the Mint, Washington, D. C.:

- Gold—Double Eagles, 221,000.
- Silver—Half Dollars (Oregon Trail), 50,028; Half Dollars (Hawaii), 10,008.
- Nickel—Five Cents, 1,412,000.
- Bronze—One Cent, 17,668,000.
- Coinage other than United States:
- Ecuador—Silver, 1,200,000.
- Nicaragua—Silver, 200,000.

Meyer Amschel Rothschild, Coin Dealer.

The founder of the House of Rothschild, until the World War the most powerful financial institution in the world, got his start in life as a dealer in rare coins.

Count Egon Caesar Corti, in his biography, "The Rise of the House of Rothschild," tells of Meyer Amschel Rothschild's early transactions:

"When he was a boy of 10 Meyer Amschel had been employed by his father in changing coins of every kind; that is, in exchanging gold and silver for the appropriate amount of copper, known as coarse money. In the chaotic conditions prevailing in Germany—divided as the country was into innumerable small principalities, cities and spiritual jurisdictions, all of which had their own currency systems—the business of money changing offered magnificent opportunities of profit, since everybody was compelled, before undertaking even the shortest journey, to call for the assistance of the exchange merchant. As the boy grew up, an important side interest developed out of this occupation, as he occasionally became possessed of rare and historically valuable coins, which awoke in him the instincts of the coin collector.

MAYER AMSCHEL ROTHSCHILD,
Factor of his Highness the Prince of Hesse-Hanau, in Frankfurt am Mayn.

"After leaving the school at Furth, where he was educated in the Jewish faith, Meyer Amschel entered the firm of Oppenheim, at Hanover. While there he happened to make the acquaintance of the Hanoverian General von Estorff, an ardent coin collector, who employed him to obtain many valuable coins for his collection. As the general was connected with the ruling house in Hesse, this acquaintance was to have fruitful results. In his spare time Meyer Amschel now devoted himself more and more to numismatics. He got hold of any books or papers about the subject that he could, and in course of time became an expert in his subject, although his general education left a very great deal to be desired."

This story explodes the famous myth that the original Rothschild built up his friendships through his ability as a chess player.

"It would appear that General von Estorff aroused his ruler's interest in coin-collecting. In 1763 William adopted this hobby with great enthusiasm and it afforded him much pleasure and satisfaction. Estorff spoke to him about Meyer Amschel Rothschild, who had bought coins for him in Hanover in former days, as being a great expert in that line. On the strength of this introduction Rothschild selected some of his finest medals and rarest coins and went to Hanau to offer them to the young prince. He did not succeed in seeing him personally, but he managed to hand them to some one in

CATALOGUE OF RARE THALERS,

Numbered according to Mr. Madai's Complete Thaler Cabinet, as well as some Gold Florins, numbered according to Kohler's Ducat Cabinet, to be had at the following prices at M. A. Rothschild.

the prince's immediate entourage. This offer proved to be the starting point of a lasting business connection, even though at first it was of a quite loose and impersonal nature.

"At that time a large number of foreigners used to visit Frankfort every spring. The town fairs were widely famous. The latest products of the whole world were on view there, and young William of Hanau, who had a talent for business, took a special interest in these fairs and constantly attended them. Meyer Amschel always managed to get advance information about these journeys from the prince's servants, and profited by these occasions to offer William while he was in Frankfort not only rare coins but also precious stones and antiques. Although this was principally done through the prince's retinue, he sometimes managed to conduct these transactions personally, and in any case he managed to establish a regular business relationship. He was fortunate in that the prince did not share the general aversion to Jews and appreciated anyone who seemed intelligent and good at business and whom he thought he could use in his own interests.

"Later, when the landgrave moved from Hanau, which was near Frankfort, the home of Rothschild, to Cassel, which was distant, Rothschild was determined not to lose such a useful connection without a struggle. In order to remind the new landgrave of his existence he visited Cassel again in 1787, bringing with him a remarkably beautiful collection of coins, medals, and jeweled gold chains and offered these wares to the landgrave at exceptionally low prices. The prince at once appreciated the real value of the articles and eagerly did business with Meyer Amschel, who took advantage of the opportunity to submit the humble request that he should not be forgotten if any future bills of exchange required discounting, or the prince wanted to purchase English coins.

"Rothschild had deliberately made a loss on these small deals in order to secure the chance of much more profitable business in the future, and his valuable articles were readily purchased from him because they were cheap, promises being freely made with regard to the future."

In later days, says Count Corti, "the firm of Rothschild was wont to emphasize that it was particularly concerned with the interests of the other party to the transaction, and business was often undertaken at a quite modest profit, sometimes even at a loss, with a view to securing much more important business at a future date, whereby any such loss would be made good. It was exactly the same principle that old Rothschild had applied in his dealings with the Elector of Hesse, when at the beginning of their connection he sold him coins and antiques far under their real value. This principle had paid, for by 1814 the Rothschilds were doing business that ran into millions."

Editorial Comment—Numismatic News.

COINAGE OF COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLARS.

The report of the Bureau of the Mint shows that the issue of 10,000 commemorative half dollars for Hawaii were struck during June. This number is the full amount authorized. The coins were sent to Hawaii for distribution, and it is believed the advance orders from collectors in the United States will have been filled by the time this issue of the magazine reaches its readers.

The report of the Mint also shows that during June 50,000 additional pieces of the Oregon Trail half dollar were struck. It is presumed these pieces will be dated 1928, which will give collectors two dates of this coin. The first issue was in September, 1926, when 48,030 pieces were reported coined. The authorized issue is "not more than 6,000,000." It is probable that there may be additional pieces struck if a sale is found for them. The Oregon Trail Memorial Association is still in existence and conducting a vigorous campaign to accomplish the purpose for which it was created.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS AND CORRESPONDENTS.

In order that the editor of The Numismatist may attend the Rochester Convention of the A. N. A., it will be necessary to arrange for the publication of the September issue a little earlier than usual. Advertisers and correspondents are requested to send in copy as early in the month as possible, as all forms will close August 12.

SPEAKING OF COIN MOTTOES.

RAPID TRANSIT IN SAN JUAN.

The above illustration shows one of the busses in use in Porto Rico. A nervous passenger might assume from mottoes on some of the busses on that island that responsibility for accidents was being shifted before they occurred. Apparently the bus owners feel that pious expressions are no more out of place on vehicles than on coins or on the framed zephyr-worked mottoes of old-fashioned parlors.

EXHIBIT OF "DOLLARS OF THE WORLD" IN NEW YORK CITY.

An exhibit of "Dollars of the World," including those of the United States, and dollar-size silver pieces coined by 429 States, principalities, cities and religious bodies in more than four centuries, has been on view by the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company in the lobby of its branch office at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth street, New York City. The collection is the property of Louis G. Kaufman, president of the bank, and is representative of silver coinage of dollar size from its inception up to the present time in all parts of the world.

DETROIT COIN CLUB HAS BANQUET FOR 100TH MEETING.

The Detroit Coin Club celebrated the occasion of its one-hundredth meeting on June 21, 1928, by holding a banquet at the Elks Club. The guest of honor was Charles Markus, President of the American Numismatic Association, of Davenport, Iowa. To commemorate the event a medal was issued, struck in silver and bronze, which is illustrated here.

The obverse has the seal of the club, surrounded by the inscription, "Commemorating 100th Meeting, Detroit, June 21, 1928." The reverse has the bust of Lincoln within a circle, "Abraham Lincoln" at the sides, with the surrounding inscription, "Inaugurated President U. S. March 4, 1861-1865."

A very attractive folder was arranged for the occasion. Separate pages are devoted to the guest of honor, the menu and fac-simile autographs of the charter members, of whom there were fourteen. It also contains a list of the present officers and members, as well as an illustration of the medal issued.

About the first of February, 1924, Edward A. Hoare, American Numismatic Association District Secretary for the State of Michigan, extended an invitation to a number of Detroiters to meet with him for the purpose of organizing a Detroit Numismatic Society. The meeting was arranged for February 15th, to be held in the old Detroit Institute of Arts. When the meeting was opened it was found that fourteen persons (some real collectors, and others only beginners) had gathered together to organize a permanent society. A very lively interest was displayed by those present, and after considerable discussion Mr. Hoare was elected president. Through the efforts of Mr. Hoare and the generosity of Mr. Livingstone, president of the Dime Savings Bank, a room was provided in the Dime Bank Building, in which the Detroit Coin Club has been holding its meetings, almost without exception, beginning with its second meeting.

At the second meeting the name of the Detroit Coin Club was adopted and at the fourth meeting, held April 4th, 1924, a constitution and by-laws were read, approved and adopted. Meetings have been held regularly on the first and third Thursdays of each month, and on June 21st, 1928, the one-hundredth meeting was reached. It was decided that an appropriate celebration should be held for this meeting, a very fine commemorative medal struck, and a banquet held at the Detroit Elks Temple.

ANOTHER LOCAL NUMISMATIC CLUB RECENTLY ORGANIZED.

The latest organization of coin collectors is the Dallas Coin Club, of Dallas, Texas, which promises to make itself felt in numismatic circles, even if the South has been a little backward, compared with other sections of the country, in forming local organizations of coin collectors. The club has issued a classy membership card and adopted the Confederate half dollar reverse as its emblem. The following is from the president of the new club, W. A. Philpott, Jr., who is also the secretary of the Texas Bankers Association and for several years a member of the A. N. A.:

"The Dallas Coin Club was organized on May 24th by persons in these parts interested in numismatics. Eighteen persons were present and the organization began with a bang. Our second meeting was held June 28th. By-laws have been adopted. The third Thursday night of each month is regular meeting date. Charter membership roll will be open until October 1st, when we expect to have fifty members.

"The following were chosen officers: W. A. Philpott, Jr., president; John E. Owens, vice-president of the Republic National Bank, Dallas, vice-president, and C. A. McGlamery, Texas Company, secretary-treasurer. At our last meeting there were several interesting exhibits and much helpful talk.

"Our friend, B. Max Mehl of Fort Worth, is a member and is much interested in the club's future. Our membership books will be open to any numismatist in Texas.

"This Southwest is a new part of the country, but we hope to interest many new collectors in numismatics. At our last meeting five new members were gained for the A. N. A.

"We enclose one of our membership cards. The Confederate half dollar is not exactly symbolic of Texas, but of the South, and we understand we are the first club in the South."

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA NUMISMATIC SOCIETY.

The Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its organization on June 14 by holding a banquet in connection with its meeting. Fifteen members were present.

W. P. N. S. ANNIVERSARY BANQUET.

FINLAND'S COINAGE.

The President of the Finnish Republic has promulgated an order in regard to the designs and the striking of their coins. There will be struck in gold, 200 and 100 mk.; in aluminum-bronze, 20, 10 and 5 mk.; in nickel, 1 mk., 50 and 25 pts.; in copper, 10 and 5 pts. The new 20 mk. diameter is 31 mm. and the designs are Finland's crest surrounded by pine-branch ornaments, without cones, and the year when struck below the crest. On the reverse is the denomination 20, surrounded the same as the obverse, but with cones. Above the ornament is "Suomen Tasavalian Markka."—Free trans. by J. deL.

A RARE VARIETY OF THE 1800 CENT.

I enclose a photograph of cent of 1800, Doughty 155. So far as is known, this is the only specimen that has turned up. In fact, the larger collectors had about concluded that the coin did not exist. Incidentally, it is in extremely fine condition. Mr. Clapp's description of the coin is enclosed.

1800—Doughty No. 155.

Obverse—Measurements: Length of word LIBERTY at base,  $9\frac{1}{4}$ ; distance from the tip of the nose to the nearest point of the letter Y, 3; distance from the tip of the nose to the lower left point of the letter L,  $9\frac{2}{3}$ ; length of date,  $4\frac{2}{3}$ . The figures of the date are well formed and stand almost straight, the 1 only being slightly above the line; the bases of the figures just touch the border milling.

Reverse—Rev. N. This reverse is marked by a die crack beginning at the top of the first A of AMERICA, passing along the tops of the letters M and E, thence downward through the other letters, terminating at a point on the left of the final A just below the cross-stroke. The measurements of this reverse are the same as Rev. A R-5.

I also enclose photograph of the 1796 cent illustrated in the June issue, page 351.

JOHN P. KENNEDY.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 11, 1928.

CHANGE PLATES OF RESERVE CURRENCY.

A slight change in the die of the $5 Federal Reserve note on the Bank of New York has been effected. In comparing the notes at hand the following differences are seen: The bank's distinguishing numbers, "B-2," are changed in their location, the new positions varying as much as one-quarter of an inch; the seal of the bank at the left was formerly on the horizontal center line past the vertical center of the left half of the note, in the curve of the border, while on the new type the seal is on the vertical center line of the left half of the note, but below the horizontal center line. As a result the Treasury numbers and seal are changed slightly in their positions, but noticeably. A comparison of the new and old notes will disclose the differences at once. The specimens examined were found in circulation, numbered B65,000,000, etc., for the old style and B75,000,000, etc., for the new type. This change may occur on all the plates of the other banks and on other denominations, thus creating a second type of the Series of 1914.

GERMAN MEDALS TO COMMEMORATE THE BREMEN FLIERS.

Two further medals have been issued in Germany to commemorate the east-to-west flight of the airplane Bremen, as follows:

First—Struck at the mint of the State of Prussia, in Berlin. Designed by the sculptor, Joseph Pöhlmann, of Nurnberg. Obverse, portrait of Köhl; inscription (translated), "Köhl and von Hunefeld, the First Successful East to West Aviators." Reverse, portrait of von Hunefeld; inscription (translated), "Unless You Risk Your Life, It Will Never Be Gained by You." Date of the flight. This medal is made of .900 fine silver in the size and weight of the five-mark piece. On the edge, "Mint of the State of Prussia Fine Silver." This medal has also been struck in gold.

Second—Medal issued with the cooperation of the German Air Council of Berlin, the German Aviation Association and the German Aero Club. Struck by the State Mint in Berlin from the design of the sculptor, Tobias Schwab. Obverse, the airplane Bremen over the ocean waves; inscription, "Europa-Amerika 12-13 April 1928." Reverse, "H. Köhl, von Hunefeld, Fitzmaurice," in three lines, over a propeller, surrounded by an oak wreath. The medal has been struck in the size of the five-mark piece in .900 silver and in .900 gold. Part of the proceeds are used for charitable purposes.

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF COUNTERFEITING.

Samuel Speranza, 24 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been arraigned before United States Commissioner William J. Wilson on removal proceedings brought by the Government, which charges him with the circulation of spurious half-dollar coins in the Federal District of Western Pennsylvania.

An agent for the Government presented certified copies of a Federal bench warrant issued in Pittsburgh calling for the arrest of Speranza, and the indictment and complaint. According to the complaint Speranza's father, Cataldo Speranza, also under indictment, was associated with the prisoner in the manufacture of the coins.

According to the complaint 209 of the counterfeit coins were found in gambling machines seized in raids in and about Pittsburgh. Secret Service agents traced the coins to Speranza and his father. Mr. Westler said he was informed that many of the coins were in circulation in Western Pennsylvania. Speranza said that he would fight the removal proceedings on the ground that he was never in Pittsburgh and that some mistake had been made by the Government in making him a defendant.—Newspaper Clipping.

MEDALLIC PORTRAITS OF BOULTON AND WATT.

Under the title "Medallic Portraits of Matthew Boulton and James Watt," Mr. Robert J. Eidlitz, of New York City, has recently published a monograph in which he presents an interesting biographical sketch of these two interesting men of the eighteenth century and illustrates a number of medals bearing their portraits. Many of the medals are from the author's collection and they have been reproduced in collotype. The edition is a handsome one and consists of 200 numbered copies.

HARRY T. WILSON, General Secretary.

The 1928 Convention of the A. N. A.

Those who expect to attend the convention of the A. N. A. in Rochester, N. Y., August 18 to 23, should remember that the opening day is Saturday, the 18th, although the business sessions will not begin until Monday, and everyone is urged to reach Rochester early on Saturday. After being made comfortable in your room you should locate the General Secretary, Harry T. Wilson, and register with him, as this registration is the official record of the attendance. Then you should see the chairman of the entertainment committee of the Rochester Numismatic Association, from whom you may obtain a badge and tickets for the entertainment features. These preliminaries concluded, you will be at liberty to install your exhibit. The A. N. A. will provide cases for this purpose. The exhibit room will be looked after day and night by officers from the police department and your coins will be safe during the time they are on exhibition.

As previously announced, headquarters will be at the Hotel Seneca, where all activities will be centered, including the exhibit and business sessions. Experience has shown that this plan is preferable to having the exhibit and business sessions in some public building. The exhibit room is the place where the members spend most of their time when not otherwise engaged, and if it is located in the hotel the advantages are apparent. The one disadvantage is that the public does not feel the same degree of freedom in calling at a hotel to view the exhibit as it does at a public building, and, consequently, the attendance is not as large. The exhibit is made largely for the benefit of the public, and it is regretted that in late years the number of visitors to the exhibits has not been greater. But with a large number of good exhibits and proper publicity by the local press, that part of the public which appreciates a display of coins can be attracted to it.

But in making selections for your exhibit it will be well to remember that those who will examine it with the greatest care and appreciate it most will be your fellow-collectors. They will appreciate its condition and the rarity of the pieces. These features are usually overlooked by the public. Something odd or curious will attract the eye of the public, even though it may have little numismatic interest. But all who attend should bring at least a few specimens and should see that they are installed on Saturday.

It is hoped to make the attendance break all previous records. The membership is now larger than ever before and interest in collecting was never greater than now. The Rochester membership will provide a good attendance in itself, and a number from the new club at Buffalo are expected to be on hand. Then there will be several from the Cleveland Club, and the Detroit Club promises to send a large delegation. To this number will be added those who come from more distant points throughout the United States and Canada, and, combined, they should form an attendance exceeding that of any recent convention.

Hotel reservations should be made at once if you have not already done so. The program is reprinted here in case you overlooked it in our June issue.

A. N. A. News and Announcements.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY PRESIDENT MARKUS.

Good News to all the Members:

Those of you who read my notes on our "Numismatic-Pleasure Trip," will recall that one of our stops was at Dallas, Texas.

We met all the members we could, with the definite object in view of forming a coin club there. No direct results were obtained during our stay there, but appeals and repeated letters finally won.

A coin club was formed at Dallas, Texas, on May 24, with 15 interested persons present, and much enthusiasm was shown. The second meeting was held June 28, and the charter will remain open until October 1, when they expect to have a membership of 50!!

Optimistic fellows, those, with a present membership of 18.

W. A. Philpott, Jr., secretary of the Texas Bankers Association, was elected president, and C. A. McGlamery, secretary.

This coin club enjoys a unique distinction, as it is the first coin club to be organized in the South.

A distinctive feature is their emblem, and a better selection could not have been made by them. It is the reverse of the Confederate half dollar and really and truly emblematical.

We are pleased beyond measure to have assisted and insisted on the formation of this club, and the members have a warm spot in our heart.

Some of these fine days we are going down there to meet with the "boys" and congratulate them on their affiliation with the A. N. A.

May you wax in numbers and in enthusiasm is the wish of

CHARLES MARKUS,

President A. N. A.

Davenport, Iowa, July 13, 1928.

GREETINGS FROM PRESIDENT MARKUS.

To All Members and Friends of the A. N. A.:

Last call to meet me at the Rochester Convention, August 18 to 23, 1928.

Those of you who attended the Rochester Convention in 1917 still cherish fond remembrances of the entertainments of the Rochester "bunch" that year.

Let us move upon them this year in such numbers as to utterly swamp them.

Please sign your proxy and send it to the Committee on Nominations or to Secretary Wilson, so you can express your choice as to officers you wish to represent you during 1929.

Let us greet Rochester in force by singing to them "Hail, hail, the gang's all here."

Fraternally yours,

CHARLES MARKUS,

President A. N. A.

Davenport, Iowa, July 13, 1928.

ATTENTION OF A. N. A. MEMBERS.

In the June issue of THE NUMISMATIST, page 356, I issued the call for nomination of officers. Members of the Association apparently paid little attention to this call, and it is most urgent that nominations be made at once and forwarded either to Mr. Elmer S. Sears, chairman of the Committee on Nominations, at Swansea, Mass., or to Mr. Harry T. Wilson, General Secretary, 535 N. Sawyer street, Chicago, Ill. Proxies cannot be sent out to members until these nominations have been made. And as the convention will soon be upon us, those members interested are most urgently requested to forward nominations.

HARRY W. RAPP,

Chairman Board of Governors.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

H. H. Yawger, former President of the A. N. A. and a member of the present Board of Governors, wishes to announce to his many friends that he is in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., for an indefinite stay, undergoing treatment.

Alden Scott Boyer, First Vice-President of the A. N. A., and Mrs. Boyer, who have been spending several months in Paris, sailed for home on the Olympic on June 20. They expect to attend the convention of the A. N. A. in Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Arnold, of Providence, R. I., sailed for Italy on July 28 on the steamship Roma, from New York. They will debark at Genoa and will be met by their son, George C. Arnold, Jr., who will motor them to his home in Milan. They will tour the countries around Italy, returning to the States the middle of October. Mr. Arnold is treasurer of the Arnold Numismatic Company.

ROYAL NUMISMATIC SOCIETY—May 17. Sir Charles Oman, K.B.E., M.P., D.C.L., LL.D., President, in the chair.

Mr. Fredk. A. Harrison exhibited a series of fine early Spanish and Neapolitan coins of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries.

Mr. John R. Pinches showed two prize medals (designed by the exhibitor) of the London School of Tropical Medicine, with a bust of Sir Patrick Manson.

Mr. L. A. Lawrence showed a sestertius of Trajan with draped and cuirassed bust to r., in unusually high relief, and a bronze coin of Plotina apparently struck from aureus or denarius dies.

Mr. C. J. Bunn exhibited a series of Byzantine folles and a series of English silver coins of the last 120 years.

Mr. V. J. E. Ryan showed the following coins: A tetradrachm of Agri-gentum (B. M. Cat. No. 58), an early didrachm of Metapontum and four rare bronze coins of Hadrian.

Miss Helen Farquhar showed a series of medallions by Simon van der Passe of Tudors and Stuarts from the Rosenheim and Green collections, and a collection of early medals of Charles II formed by Mr. C. Broadley for his book, "The Travels of the King."

Mr. Martin Spink exhibited three rare Mormon gold coins, "Eye of the Lord" coins, $5, 1850 and $2½ 1849, and $5, "Holiness to the Lord" 1860. He also showed a unique drachm of Sinope, also two rare Corinthian staters of Echinus and Mesma.

Mr. William Gilbert exhibited a magnificent first brass of Commodus (Coh. 935), struck in A. D. 183 from the Carfrae (astronomer), Evans and Vierordt collection, struck on a large flan, with portrait in high relief; on the reverse the S. C. occurs twice.

Mr. Fredk. A. Walters, F.S.A., showed a London groat of Henry VI of his restoration coinage, 1470-71, obv. mm. cross, rev., small lys after DEUM, a new variety. It has the same m.m., an inverted cross, as the rare groat with m.m. lys on the rev. before POSUI.

Mr. Walters also showed six sestertii of Pertinax and one of Titiana (of Alexandria), reverse, LIB AVG (are without S. C. from the de Viry Sale, 1909), AEQVIT AVG, LAETITIA TEMPORVM, VOT DECEN. and PROVIDENTIAE DEORVM.

BRITISH NUMISMATIC SOCIETY—Ordinary meeting, Wednesday, May 23rd, 1928, Lieut.-Colonel H. W. Morrieson, F.S.A., President, in the chair.

Exhibits were as follows:

By Dr. E. C. Carter: Charles I Shilling of Type 3a, with mint-mark harp with 4 dots on each side on both obverse and reverse. Also two half-groats of the first issue of Charles II, with different legends.

By Mr. J. O. Manton: A well-struck Aethelstan penny of Derby mint. (Illustrated in T. Bateman's Vestiges of the Antiquities of Derbyshire.)

By Mr. H. Alexander Parsons: An "old-head" halfpenny of George II, and a first issue halfpenny of George III, each countermarked with a small head of George III in an oval, similar to the countermarked Spanish and other currency authorized for circulation at the end of the eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth century. These countermarked halfpennies appear to be the first to have come under notice and they are so far unpublished, although a London and Middlesex halfpenny token, dated 1792, similarly countermarked, is included by Davis in his "Tokens of the Nineteenth Century."

By Mr. F. A. Walters: Henry VI groat of the Restoration period, 1470-71, of London.

Mr. J. O. Manton read a paper, "Notes on a Find of Pennies of Edward I and II, at Derby, September 1st, 1927, and a Probable Connection of the Coins With the 'Tutbury Find,' June 1st, 1831."

On September 1, 1927, a workman employed by a firm of builders, when making an excavation between two houses in City Road, Derby, and when about two feet down, struck and broke with his pick a small earthenware jar containing silver coins. The broken pieces of the jar and its contents were collected for examination, and Mr. F. Williamson, curator of the Derby Museum, recognized the find as one of Edward I and II pennies, and he placed the jar as a production of the Tudor period, which, later, was confirmed at the British Museum.

The hoard numbered some 634 specimens, and after selections had been made for the British Museum and the Mint, the remainder (some 489 coins) went to the Derby Museum. These had been tabulated by Mr. Williamson under classes and mints and the tabulation communicated to the Society by Mr. Manton.

Mr. Manton went on to say that a curious problem was presented by these facts, viz.: A find of fourteenth-century coins, in a sixteenth-century jar, in ground "made up" subsequent to the fabrication of the jar. Whatever the vicissitudes of the coins may have been, Mr. Manton advanced the opinion that local history and the types of the coins point to their having been part of the contents of the military chest of Thomas, Earl of Lancaster, and the Confederate Barons, before its loss when their forces forded the river Dove, near Tutbury, in hasty flight from Edward II and his army in 1322.

Thomas of Lancaster, son of Edmund Crouchback, younger brother of Edward I, and, therefore, first cousin to Edward II, held from his father the earldoms of Lancaster, Leicester, and Derby. He had raised a force in the North against Edward II, advanced into the Midland district, and had taken up a position at Burton Bridge. A part of the King's army, having been guided to a ford about five miles above Burton, attacked the Earl's forces in the rear and compelled him to retire to his castle at Tutbury. The King followed and the Earl, finding his safety imperiled, secretly forded the river Dove which was swollen by flood-water at the time, leaving his luggage and military chest in the care of his treasurer, and eventually reached his castle at Pontefract. The treasurer was not so fortunate, for the chest and contents were lost in the river, and in those troublous times there was no opportunity to recover it, and as time passed, the loss was forgotten.

The contents of the chest were discovered on June 1st, 1831, when workmen were removing a large quantity of gravel from the bed of the river. Many joined in the search for treasure and it is said that two men secured as many as five thousand coins, which they sold at 6s to 8s per hundred. Officers of the Crown then appeared and declared the find treasure-trove, and in consequence the public were barred from further search. Some fifteen hundred more were found and these were placed in the care of local authorities—Lord Vernon, of Sudbury Hall, and Mr. H. J. Harpur—to be forwarded to the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

Mr. Manton exhibited four trays of the Tutbury find, which he had purchased in 1884 from the widow of a Burton medical practitioner, who in turn obtained them from the actual finders.

Mr. Manton explained that circumstances had led to the presentation of his notes hurriedly, and that his suggestion that the "find" of September, 1927, might be connected with the "Tutbury find" of 1831 possibly might be subject to revision. Both Mr. J. S. Shirley-Fox and Mr. L. A. Lawrence, who had examined the British Museum selection, stated that there were coins included of ten years later issue than the latest issue in the Tutbury find, and that local history would have to be further explored for a solution of the considerable bulk of coins in the 1927 hoard. The possibility was also suggested that the jar, with its contents, might have been moved as rubble with earth from its original place of deposit to the made-up ground in which it was found.

DETROIT COIN CLUB—The one hundredth meeting of the Detroit Coin Club was held at the Elks Temple on Thursday evening, June 21st, 1928. Members present were: Messrs. Allen, Brisley, Camp, Carter, Byerly, Dworowski, Fratcher, Grinnell, Gruenfeld, Hack, Hanna, Harwood, Heath, Hitchcock, Hoare, Hudson, Hughes, Hutchinson, Kier, Kutukian, Livingstone, Markus, Muhleman, Noyes, Powell, Rapp, Reynolds, Stehfest, Stewart, Temple and Watson. Visitor, Mr. Frank Pietsche.

At 6.30 thirty-two of us sat down to a banquet in celebration of our one hundredth meeting. The meal was one such as only the Elks Club can serve. At each plate were favors furnished by Mr. Camp, of the Artic Ice Cream Co. There was also at each place a souvenir program which every member will be happy to have in his collection as a reminder of the celebration. Immediately after the food was cleared away President Grinnell opened the meeting.

Communications were read from Messrs. Fernald, Newcomb and Potischke, members who were not able to be present. Telegrams of greetings were received and read from Mr. Farran Zerbe and Mr. Julius Gutttag.

The application of Mr. F. H. Hitchcock was received. Moved, seconded and carried that the rules be suspended and Mr. Hitchcock's application be immediately considered. A vote was then taken on Mr. Hitchcock and he was duly elected to membership.

Moved, seconded and carried that a copy in bronze of the one hundredth meeting medal be donated to the A. N. A.

Moved, seconded and carried that a vote of thanks be given Mr. Camp for the favors which he furnished for the occasion.

Moved, seconded and carried that a vote of thanks and a copy of the commemorative medal be given Mr. Ritzenhein and Miss Sullivan, of Grinnell Brothers, for the excellent work they did in producing the program.

President Grinnell then turned the meeting over to the toastmaster, Mr. Hoare, who in his usual and characteristic style, kept us all on our toes.

Mr. Markus, President of the A. N. A., who particularly honored us by being present, was first called on and gave us a most interesting and instructive talk, laying particular stress on the fact that every member of the A. N. A. who could possibly attend the convention should do so.

All the other members of the club were then called on for short talks and all seemed most enthusiastic about the Rochester convention. We are ready to make a wager right now that no other club, outside of Rochester, will be as well represented at the convention this year as the Detroit Coin Club.

Meeting was finally closed about 12 o'clock with everybody voting this the "red-letter day" of our club.

Application of Mr. Joseph C. Manuel was received and referred to Mr. Brisley and Mr. Camp.

Donations were made as follows:

Mr. Watson: Book by Rawlings, "Coins and How to Know Them."

Mr. Brisley: 1912 U. S. proof set, 1 cent to 50 cents.

A vote of thanks was given to both Mr. Watson and Mr. Brisley for these very fine contributions to our cabinet.

A very interesting round-table discussion then took place, out of which it is hoped ideas will be developed for the future advancement of the D. C. C.

Meeting adjourned, after which a short auction was held.

On account of the holiday, the next meeting will be held on Monday, June 11th, at 8 P. M.

THE DURER MEDAL.

To commemorate the 400th anniversary of the birth of the German master, Albert Durer, a medal has been struck in the Bavarian State Mint at Munich from the designs of Joseph Bernhart. It has been issued in a limited quantity for distribution by the Germanic Museum in Nurnberg in the size of a five-mark piece, silver and gold. The obverse shows the head of Durer facing, with suitable inscriptions, and the reverse, the coats of arms of Durer and Nurnberg.

ROYALTY WITHOUT MONEY.

It is hard to believe that the King of England at the charity fete at Balmoral found it difficult to distinguish between a 10-shilling and a pound Treasury note. But it may quite easily be true, for members of the royal family handle money very seldom. I believe the sole exception was Queen Alexandra, who seldom left Marlborough House without seeing that her purse was well filled, since she had an impulsive habit of buying anything that happened to take her eye in a shop. Her Majesty had for many years past the curious little foible of only carrying new money that had come straight from the Mint. She would have her purse filled, usually by the Honorable Charlotte Knollys, just before she left Marlborough House, and when she returned she would empty on to the table any old coins she had received by way of change, and have them replaced by brand new ones.—London Chronicle.

"A WONDERFUL MAGAZINE."

In renewing his subscription one of our New York State subscribers writes as follows:

"Please find enclosed check for two dollars for renewal of THE NUMISMATIST—a wonderful magazine and I enjoy it immensely."

MR. BOYER SEES FRENCH GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT OF COINS.

I visited the French Government money exhibit in the Bibliotheque Nationale, on Rue Richelieu, here in Paris, yesterday. They are exhibiting some wonderful coins. I noticed particularly six pieces of Syracuse in magnificent state. They are a sight for one's eyes. The cabinet consists of 600,000 specimens, but they were pleased to see one specimen that I had in my pocket that was not in their collection—a silver bar coin of Annam, not at all rare. The arrangement is in flat cases, similar to those used by the A. N. A. at our conventions. Naturally, they have coins unique in the world, and the exhibit is a veritable coin collectors' paradise. Even the guards are expert numismatists and visitors are given the most cordial welcome I ever experienced in a permanent exhibition. Collectors visiting Paris should not fail to see this.

ALDEN SCOTT BOYER.

ANYBODY GOT CHANGE FOR AN EAGLE CLAW?

Currency takes some queer shapes in Northwest Queensland, Australia, according to a press dispatch. Promissory notes in amounts from $1 to $5 are issued by several business firms and remain in circulation for one year, being accepted unquestioningly throughout the district. Other substitutes for coin are eagle claws at $1 the pair and wild dog scalps at $5 apiece. The Sydney Bulletin recently told of a farmer who wanted "change" for a $5 note and accepted two wild dog scalps, four eagle claws and eight promissory notes bearing four signatures of men he had never even heard of.

FRENCH LOSE ON SILVER.

The silver coins hoarded for years by French peasants in their proverbial woolen socks will not be redeemed at par, but at two-fifths of their pre-war value. The Government has fixed the ratio for the silver pieces which have been demonetized under the stabilization bill, the value being set on the basis of the bullion price. Consequently, Frenchmen who did not trust banks, thinking that any hard money was always worth par, will get only forty cents on the dollar for their silver coins.

NUMISMATICS AND THE A. N. A. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

The August, 1903, issue of THE NUMISMATIST contained the following articles: "Eccentricities of Coin Valuation"; "Unusual Numismatic Specimens"; "Rare Find of Old Coins"; "Coins of Bible Places"; "Pick-Ups During a Visit to the New Mint at Philadelphia," by Farran Zerbe; "Some New Issues of Coins," by Howland Wood. The department devoted to the A. N. A. contains the names of nine applicants for membership.

COINS FOUND RECENTLY IN SWEDEN.

In the Province of Gevleborg, near Storjungfruns-fyrplats, at the harbor Soderhamn, not less than 600 coins were found, dating from 1600 (Queen Christina). Further search near the place has been undertaken and a great quantity of coins found. It is assumed that the hoard is from a stranded vessel lost in the neighborhood.—Free trans. by J. deL.

Unique Coin Holders

A Practical Holder for Coins, Medals and Tokens.

Each row of coins is covered with a slide of celluloid on both front and back, that can be removed quickly for examination or replacement of a coin without disturbing the remaining coins.

The holders are  $7\frac{1}{2}$  inches wide by 14 inches long, come punched so that several holders can be hooked together to form coin book for small collections, and for large collections several holders can be laced together with a short shoe string to form books.

On account of their weight coins cannot be handled satisfactorily in ordinary book binders covers.

Unique Coin Holders are made in a large range of sizes that will practically accommodate all coins of the world and a great many medals.

1. Unique Coin Holder—Will hold 15 coins up to  $1\frac{1}{8}$  in. diameter, such as 1794 silver dollars and the smaller dollars.

2. Unique Coin Holder—Will hold 20 coins up to  $1\frac{3}{8}$  in. diameter. Large half dollars, Colonial coppers, etc.

3. Unique Coin Holder—Will hold 25 coins up to  $1\frac{1}{4}$  in. diameter. This holder will take the commemorative half dollars and all small half dollars from 1836 to date and all pattern half dollars.

4. Unique Coin Holder—Will hold 30 coins up to 1 in. diameter. Small quarters, Two-cent pieces, encased postage, Hard Times tokens of the larger sizes.

5. Unique Coin Holder—Will hold 50 coins up to  $\frac{7}{8}$  in. diameter. 5c. nickels, 20-cent pieces, small Hard Times tokens and \$5 gold.

6. Unique Coin Holder—This is a combination of the above five holders, and will hold 3 large dollars, 4 large half dollars, 5 small half dollars, 6 quarters and nickels, 10 dimes and cents. A holder for proof sets.

7. Unique Coin Holder—This will hold 30 large cents or other coins up to  $1\frac{1}{8}$  in. diameter. Openings are made extra deep to take the early cents without rubbing. It will also hold Jackson tokens, large quarters and \$10 gold.

8. Unique Coin Holder—This will hold 70 small cents or coins up to  $\frac{3}{4}$  in. diameter, nickel 3 cents, dimes, small Hard Times tokens and \$2.50 gold.

9. Unique Coin Holder—With 70 openings,  $9\text{--}16$  in. diameter, for half dimes, silver 3 cents, 25c. gold, 50c. gold and gold dollars.

Price of each holder, $1.00.

Cloth Covered Backs, with rings, price per pair, 50c.

These coin holders are sold by coin dealers throughout the United States. If for any reason you cannot buy them from your dealer, then write to the manufacturers.

THE BEISTLE CO., Shippensburg, Pa.

This Is An Unsolicited Letter I Received

Of course, I am proud of it. And I feel that it is of interest to every collector who may, now or later, contemplate the sale of his collection.

Mr. B. Max Mehl,
Mehl Building,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Mehl:

Kindly accept my most sincere thanks for the check in full payment of collection sent you a short time ago.

Mere words seem useless in trying to express my appreciation of the lovely and courteous manner in which you transact business. Yours surely can be termed "Golden Rule" method.

Again thanking you for your kindness, promptness and fairness, and wishing you success in abundance, I remain

Very sincerely,

MRS. HARRY S. WELTY.
